Planned Corruption of the Bible exposed in 1969!

Students of Biblical prophecy have long identified an end-time one-world government. Developments in the last hundred years have silenced those who disbelieved it. Various detailed plans for its accomplishment have surfaced over the years and current events have played out closely according to some of the plans.
One such revelation involves a Dr. Richard Day, late professor of pediatrics at Mount Sinai School of Medicine, and a former director of Planned Parenthood, who spoke of the plans of "The Order" to a group of pediatricians in 1969. Dr. Lawrence Dunegan was in the audience and prepared an audio tape from his notes in the conference.
Looking back, the plan's accurate prediction of recent developments is striking. Predictions included making abortion normal (spoken before Roe v Wade), sex education down to the youngest kids, encouraging homosexuality, limiting access to affordable health care and bringing down American preeminence in industry. Another objective was to destroy the normal family structure.
However, one of the most interesting parts of the plan dealt with Christians and the Bible: Below is the transcript of what Dr. Richard Day said:

BLENDING ALL RELIGIONS...THE OLD RELIGIONS WILL HAVE TO GO: Another area of discussion was Religion. This is an avowed atheist speaking. And he said, "Religion is not necessarily bad. A lot of people seem to need religion, with it's mysteries and rituals - so they will have religion. But the major religions of today have to be changed because they are not compatible with the changes to come. The old religions will have to go. Especially Christianity. Once the Roman Catholic Church is brought down, the rest of Christianity will follow easily. Then a new religion can be accepted for use all over the world. It will incorporate something from all of the old ones to make it more easy for people to accept it, and feel at home in it. Most people won't be too concerned with religion. They will realize that they don't need it.

CHANGING THE BIBLE THROUGH REVISIONS OF KEY WORDS: In order to do this, the Bible will be changed. It will be rewritten to fit the new religion. Gradually, key words will be replaced with new words having various shades of meaning. Then the meaning attached to the new word can be close to the old word - and as time goes on, other shades of meaning of that word can be emphasized. and then gradually that word replaced with another word." I don't know if I'm making that clear. But the idea is that everything in Scripture need not be rewritten, just key words replaced by other words. And the variability in meaning attached to any word can be used as a tool to change the entire meaning of Scripture, and therefore make it acceptable to this new religion. Most people won't know the difference; and this was another one of the times where he said, "the few who do notice the difference won't be enough to matter."*

Dunegan explains, "...the idea is that everything in Scripture need not be rewritten, just key words replaced by other words. The variability in meaning attached to any word can be used as a tool to change the entire meaning of Scripture, and therefore make it acceptable to this new religion."

"THE CHURCHES WILL HELP US!": Then followed one of the most surprising statements of the whole presentation: He said, "Some of you probably think the Churches won't stand for this," and he went on to say, "the churches will help us!" There was no elaboration on this, it was unclear just what he had in mind when he said, "the churches will help us!" In retrospect I think some of us now can understand what he might have meant at that time. I recall then only of thinking, "no they won't!" and remembering our Lord's words where he said to Peter, "Thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build my Church, and gates of Hell will not prevail against it." So .. yes, some people in the Churches might help. And in the subsequent 20 years we've seen how some people in Churches have helped. But we also know that our Lord's Words will stand, and the gates of Hell will not prevail.

David W. Daniels details in his book, Why They Changed the Bible, how the modern Bibles are a product of over a century of effort to subtly bend the text toward a one-world Bible for a one-world religion. When Bible societies were first established in the early 1800s, ungodly society members succeeded in establishing polluted Greek and Hebrew texts as the foundational translation documents for not only English Bibles, but all languages, both common and those used by organizations such as Wycliffe. His book also describes how the Jesuits were central in this effort. Their goal is to get the Apocrypha included in your Bible to support more of their pagan doctrines. We are very late in this process. The present Jesuit pope is even now pushing hard for unity toward the end-times one-world religion.

This effort to corrupt God's Word is not just an effort of a wicked mankind that hates God & His Word but it involves Satan and his devils & it started in the Garden of Eden when Satan succeeded in selling the first "revised" edition of God's Word to Eve & he has surely been busy in this 20th Century along the same lines. God gave us the good Seed of His Word but Satan the enemy has sown tares in an effort to corrupt God's Word. The modern Bible verses are the tares amidst the KJV Bible, the good & pure Seed of God's Word.

This effort to corrupt God's Word fast tracked in the latter part of the 19th Century as Satan and his angels set out to destroy the Church by undermining its Foundation, the Bible. Charles Darwin's Origin of the Species was blindly accepted as "new light on an old problem" by the scholarship of that day which had become largely obsessed with rationalism and humanism. Theories and methods of "higher criticism" and "textual criticism" were developed and couched in such scholarly language that most people failed to recognize that these were actually attacks upon the Word of God - even though carefully disguised as an effort to "supply the English reader with a more correct text of the New Testament" and to "render the New Testament more generally intelligible." The rush toward new versions was on and though the early progress was slow, we are seeing the results today.

In 1881, Satan sowed tares when influenced by and sympathetic to the Darwinian theory of evolution, two men, Brooke Foss Westcott and Fenton J. A. Hort brought forth a different version of the Greek New Testament - one which differed from the Textus Receptus (the underlying Greek text of the KJV) in over 5,700 places. This Westcott-Hort Greek Text was later to become the basis for the modern Bible versions such as the NIV, ESV, RSV, NKJV, NASV, etc. It gave great weight to two corrupted manuscripts-the Vaticanus (Codex B) which was found in the Vatican Library in 1481 and the Sinaiticus (Codex Aleph) which was found in a monastery wastebasket at the foot of Mt. Sinai in 1844. Despite evidences to prove that Vaticanus & Sinaiticus were corrupted manuscripts (corrupted by the Gnostics of Alexandria, Egypt), Wescott & Hort deliberately used these as the basis for the modern versions of the Bible. Their agenda, like Richard Day said was to corrupt God's Word stealthily. For all of these reasons and many more, the conclusion is that the modern Bible versions are dangerous and that God's people should beware of them.

God has promised to preserve His Word forever. The King James Bible has been blessed by God for hundreds of years and should be used by believers today.

In the providence of God, two very important things happened in the 15th and 16th centuries for which we should all be eternally grateful. First, was the invention of the printing press and second, the Protestant Reformation. It was the combination of these two developments that made possible the translation and publication of the Authorized King James Version of the Bible in 1611. From then until now, this wonderful gift of God and its subsequent translation into every known major language in the world has saved souls & changed the course of history and we enjoy its benefits today.

The written Word of God is our Final Authority in all matters of which It speaks, for It is God's final revelation to man. The Bible is God's trustworthy, authoritative Book, and no more is to be added thereto. The Holy Spirit supernaturally inspired the writers of the 39 Books of the Old Testament to record the very Words God desired His people to possess (2 Pet. 1: 2 1). Likewise, the prophetic promise Jesus Christ made to His disciples (soon to be the apostles and writers of the 27 books of the New Testament) restated the same divine operation of inspiration, for the Holy Spirit later also guided these men "into all Truth" (Jn. 16:12-15). "All Scripture is given by inspiration of God" (2 Tim. 3:16, 17), and that inspired Scripture encompasses nothing more, nor anything less, than the 66 Books of the Bible, the completed canon of Scripture. 2 Peter 3:2 tells us that if we want to know God's Word, then we are to look nowhere other than to the "Words which were spoken before by the holy prophets [O. T. Scripture], and of the commandments of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour [N.T. Scripture]." God's Word provides us with all we need to be built up in the faith and to do God's will and work - God gave no additional revelation once the Bible was completed. The inspired writings of the apostles, circulated among the churches and later canonized, were perfect and complete (Lk. 1: 1-4; 1 Cor. 14:37; Eph. 3:1-7; 1 Thess. 2:13; Rev. 22:18, 19). The internal evidence of the Word of God states without equivocation that believers today have a final authority - God's Written Word.

Since the completion of the canon of Scripture, no additional divine revelation has come through any "latter day prophets," charismatic dreamers, cult authorities or the tradition/Magisterium of the Roman Catholic Church, as Pope John Paul II has reinforced in a recent encyclical. With the passing of the original disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ (the apostles who penned the 27 books of the New Testament), the partial revelation ceased and "that which is perfect"-the Written Word of the Living God-was come. "That which is in part" was done away (1 Cor. 13:8-12). With the passing of the apostles and the subsequent completion of the canon, no more revelation came from God. It is essential, therefore, that we earnestly contend for the faith "once delivered" (past tense) and against any attempt to claim an authority for faith and practice other than God's Word, the 66 books of the Bible. Remember, Timothy's household did not have the "original autographs," but the copies they had were designated by God as "the holy scriptures" (2 Tim. 3:14, 15). Likewise, Paul commended the Ephesian elders to the "word of his grace, which is able to build you up..." (Acts 20:27, 32). We can have confidence today that we have a Bible that is the holy Word of God in the Authorized (King James) Version.

A problem developed, however, with the 20th century's proliferation of new Bible versions. It became necessary to study the history of the English Bible and the Greek text which had been used down through the centuries and compare that text with the claims of the "higher critics" who championed the minority text upon which the new versions are based. After careful study of the subject, the FEA concluded that the Textus Receptus, the underlying text upon which the Authorized King James Version is based, is the providentially preserved Greek text. The Textus Receptus was derived from the majority family of manuscripts used in the Greek-speaking church down through the centuries. This text was the divinely preserved text - an accurate rendition of the very originals (miraculously inspired by the Holy Spirit) written by the apostles, and, in the Hebrew tongue, by the Old Testament prophets. The Masoretic text of the Old Testament and the Textus Receptus of the New Testament are, in reality, the divinely preserved texts of the divinely inspired original writings. Though Satan & people may conspire to corrupt God's Word but God shall preserve it forever and He will preserve His Word in His children.
